

I like to be tied up.

Maybe you're thinking, what an oddball. Maybe not. But let me tell you - it's incredible. The feeling of being at the mercy of someone you are totally passionate about. In this case it's my wife, whom I love dearly. Sometimes when we're fooling around, she ties me to the headboard. I want to hold her and kiss her, but I can't. The passion wells within me. And I'm completely and utterly hers. I trust her entirely and no words can describe the overwhelming sensation of being bound to her passion.
